LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES, Passed at the Third Session of the Thirty-second Congress.

[P.L.C.—No. 98.]

POLICE PROCEEDINGS.—Monday, April 17. Jane Sullivan, drunk and disorderly conduct. Bail in — for three months.

Mary Scott, Elizabeth Price, and Anna McGuire were each held to bail in $100 for two months.

John and Bridget Keef, charged with receiving stolen goods knowing them to be stolen. Continued.

Pat Nester, Daniel W. Yager, Buck Sheen, Wm. F. Ritchie, and John Keef, charged with stealing calico and money from Therese Jacobs. These are young boys between the ages of ten and twelve, and prominent members of the "Forty Thieves." They flourish under the significant surnames of Dick Turpin, Jack Sheppard, Sixteen-String Jack, etc. They were held over in $300 to answer the charge of felony.

Bryant Haran, drunk and disorderly conduct. Bail in $100 for two months.

Jos. Dunnick, stealing $8,000 from Archey Clark. Held over in $2,000 to answer the charge.

Andy Weying, charged with receiving money knowing it to be stolen. Discharged.

THE GUERRILLA WOODWARD'S PLANS.—The Editor of the New Albany Ledger has covered with a well informed and highly respectable citizen of southwestern Kentucky, well posted in reference to masters connected with the rebellion in that section of the State, who says that he had information of the contemplated movements of the guerrilla chief Woodward, and other guerrilla leaders, which he deemed entirely reliable, and which, if true, should be thwarted while there is yet time.

In a conversation recently with a citizen of Christian County, Woodward said that he had an interest amounting to over eighty thousand dollars in the tobacco crop of Captain Cain, Calewell, Todd, Logan, and Trigg counties; and that it was very desirable to himself and other rebel officers, also largely interested in tobacco, that all the tobacco from the region bordering on the Cumberland River should be sent forward to market and disposed of. He further stated that he would use all his influence to keep guerrillas out of this section, and to prevent them disturbing stemmers plying between Clarksville and Smithland, until after the gold had gone forward, and the money had been received for it.

"Then," he said, "there will be such a war waged in the country between the Louisville and Nashville Railroad and the Ohio and between Cumberland and Green Rivers as Kentuckians had never yet witnessed."

The rebels, however, were determined to possess that portion of Kentucky at least, and thus cut off the Federal communications by way of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad and the Cumberland river—declaring that they had a well digested and thoroughly organized plan of campaign, which would most vigorously prosecute it.

Section 3. And be it further enacted, That the party preempting, settling upon, or locating in the city, outside of those en route to join their regiments, are the officials connected with the command of this post.

We are indebted to Conductor Waterhouse, of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, for late favors.

THE CORRESPONDENCE OF THE LOUISVILLE JOURNAL.

LAURENT, Tenn., April 13, 1863.

I again seat myself to drop a few lines from the gallant 4th Kentucky infantry. Perhaps it would be interesting to the many friends of the 4th to know what we are doing at the present time, and where we have been since our departure from the Union State.

It would be a heroic task for me to attempt to describe the various marches and jaunts that we have had after the horses and mutton. When we got off the train of the rebels, but, rather, to relate that our time has been employed in this way ever since General Bragg was driven from our lines, which we took here at Larvanre, fifteen miles from Nashville on the Murfreesboro pike. We came here sometime in January, and commenced fortifying this place for the purpose of holding it against the rebels, who had come from Nashville to main army at Murfreesboro, and had remained ever since.

Our readers will probably remember that the full appraised value of the land, and the improvements thereon, the lands are situated in the portions of the land which we have sold at public auction, no other public lands are left.

And provided, further, That no more than eighty acres shall be awarded to any one in any division under this act.

Section 4. And be it further enacted, That the benefit of the said Indians shall be expended in such manner as will, in the judgment of the Secretary of the Interior, benefit the Indians in their new homes, in the establishing them in agricultural pursuits: Provided, That it shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Interior to make reasonable provision for the education of said Indians, according to their capacity and the means at their command.

Approved, March 13, 1863.

[P.L.C.—No. 99.]

AN ACT for the removal of the Sisseton, Wahpeton, Mdewakanton, and Wahpeton bands of Sioux Indians from Minnesota, and for the removal of their lands in Minnesota and Dakota.

It is enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That it shall be lawful for the President to cause to be issued a proclamation, directing the Secretary of the Interior to remove the Sisseton, Wahpeton, Mdewakanton, and Wahpeton bands of Sioux Indians from the state of Minnesota, and to assign to them lands in the state of Dakota.

Section 2. And be it further enacted, That the several tracts of land within the reservations of said bands of Sioux Indians shall be surveyed, and the area of each tract measured, and the same divided among the members of the band so as to give each member an equal share.

the lands so divided among the members of the bands of Sioux Indians shall be sold at public auction, and the proceeds of the same applied to the support of agriculture, and to the construction of roads, bridges, and other improvements, and to the payment of debts
and expenses, incurred in the removal of
the Indians.

the lands so divided among the members of the
bands of Sioux Indians shall be sold at public
auction, and the proceeds of the same applied
to the support of agriculture, and to the
construction of roads, bridges, and other
improvements, and to the payment of debts
and expenses, incurred in the removal of
the Indians.

the lands so divided among the members of the
bands of Sioux Indians shall be sold at public
construction of roads, bridges, and other
improvements, and to the payment of debts
and expenses, incurred in the removal of
the Indians.

the lands so divided among the members of the
bands of Sioux Indians shall be sold at public
auction, and the proceeds of the same applied
to the support of agriculture, and to the
construction of roads, bridges, and other
improvements, and to the payment of debts
and expenses, incurred in the removal of
the Indians.

the lands so divided among the members of the
bands of Sioux Indians shall be sold at public
auction, and the proceeds of the same applied
to the support of agriculture, and to the
construction of roads, bridges, and other
improvements, and to the payment of debts
and expenses, incurred in the removal of
the Indians.

the lands so divided among the members of the
bands of Sioux Indians shall be sold at public
auction, and the proceeds of the same applied
to the support of agriculture, and to the
construction of roads, bridges, and other
improvements, and to the payment of debts
and expenses, incurred in the removal of
the Indians.

the lands so divided among the members of the
bands of Sioux Indians shall be sold at public
auction, and the proceeds of the same applied
to the support of agriculture, and to the
construction of roads, bridges, and other
improvements, and to the payment of debts
and expenses, incurred in the removal of
the Indians.

the lands so divided among the members of the
bands of Sioux Indians shall be sold at public
auction, and the proceeds of the same applied
to the support of agriculture, and to the
construction of roads, bridges, and other
improvements, and to the payment of debts
and expenses, incurred in the removal of
the Indians.

Section 11. And be it further enacted, That
the lands so divided among the members of the
bands of Sioux Indians shall be sold at public
auction, and the proceeds of the same applied
to the support of agriculture, and to the
construction of roads, bridges, and other
improvements, and to the payment of debts
and expenses, incurred in the removal of
the Indians.

the lands so divided among the members of the
bands of Sioux Indians shall be sold at public
auction, and the proceeds of the same applied
to the support of agriculture, and to the
construction of roads, bridges, and other
improvements, and to the payment of debts
and expenses, incurred in the removal of
the Indians.

the lands so divided among the members of the
bands of Sioux Indians shall be sold at public
auction, and the proceeds of the same applied
to the support of agriculture, and to the
construction of roads, bridges, and other
improvements, and to the payment of debts
and expenses, incurred in the removal of
the Indians.

to the support of agriculture, and to the
construction of roads, bridges, and other
improvements, and to the payment of debts
and expenses, incurred in the removal of
the Indians.

Section 17. And be it further enacted, That
the lands so divided among the members of the
bands of Sioux Indians shall be sold at public
auction, and the proceeds of the same applied
to the support of agriculture, and to the
construction of roads, bridges, and other
improvements, and to the payment of debts
and expenses, incurred in the removal of
the Indians.

Section 18. And be it further enacted, That
the lands so divided among the members of the
bands of Sioux Indians shall be sold at public
auction, and the proceeds of the same applied
to the support of agriculture, and to the
construction of roads, bridges, and other
improvements, and to the payment of debts
and expenses, incurred in the removal of
the Indians.

Section 19. And be it further enacted, That
the lands so divided among the members of the
